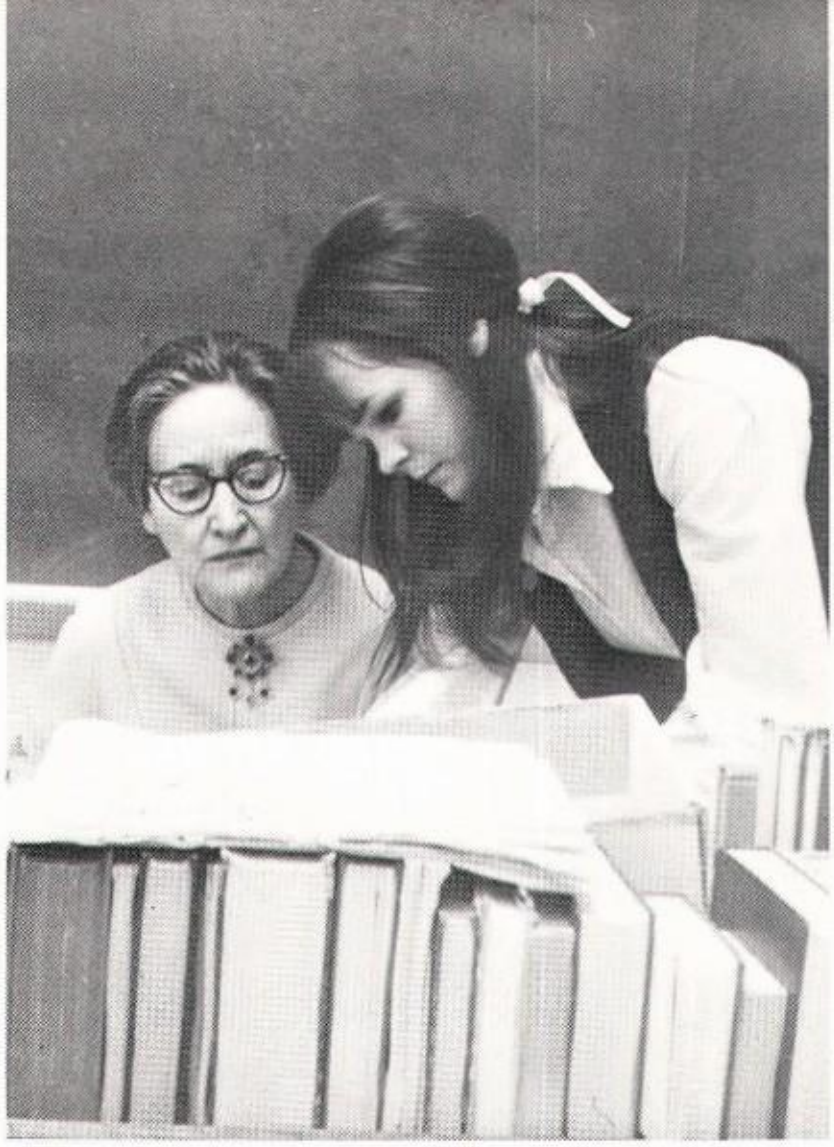
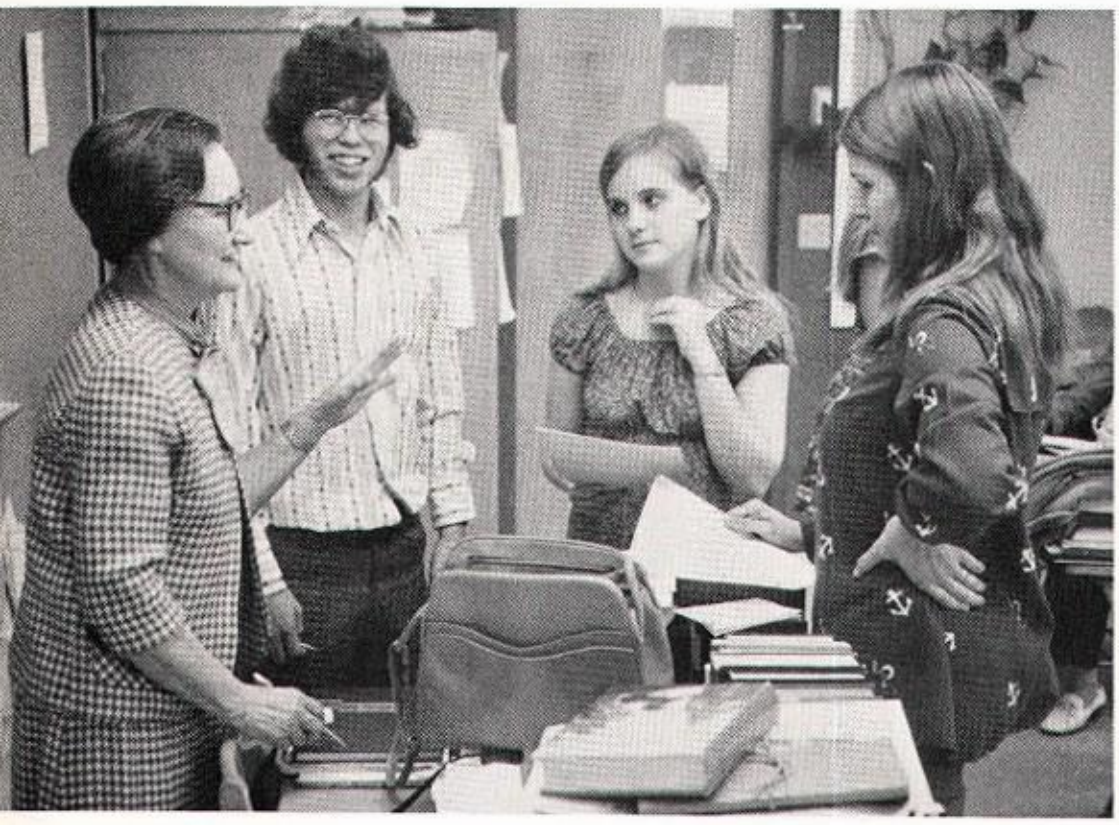
Volume 20



A frustrating moment in Annual Staff.

Dedication

Mrs. Rose Ross, an outstanding educator, has spent ten years teaching at Park Hill High School. She has taught Language Arts IV, Journalism, and Annual. During her teaching career she has been an inspiration and has devoted her time to the benefit of her students. Mrs. Ross is leaving Park Hill to continue writing for various publications and to travel.



After London there was a quaint little place in Paris . . .

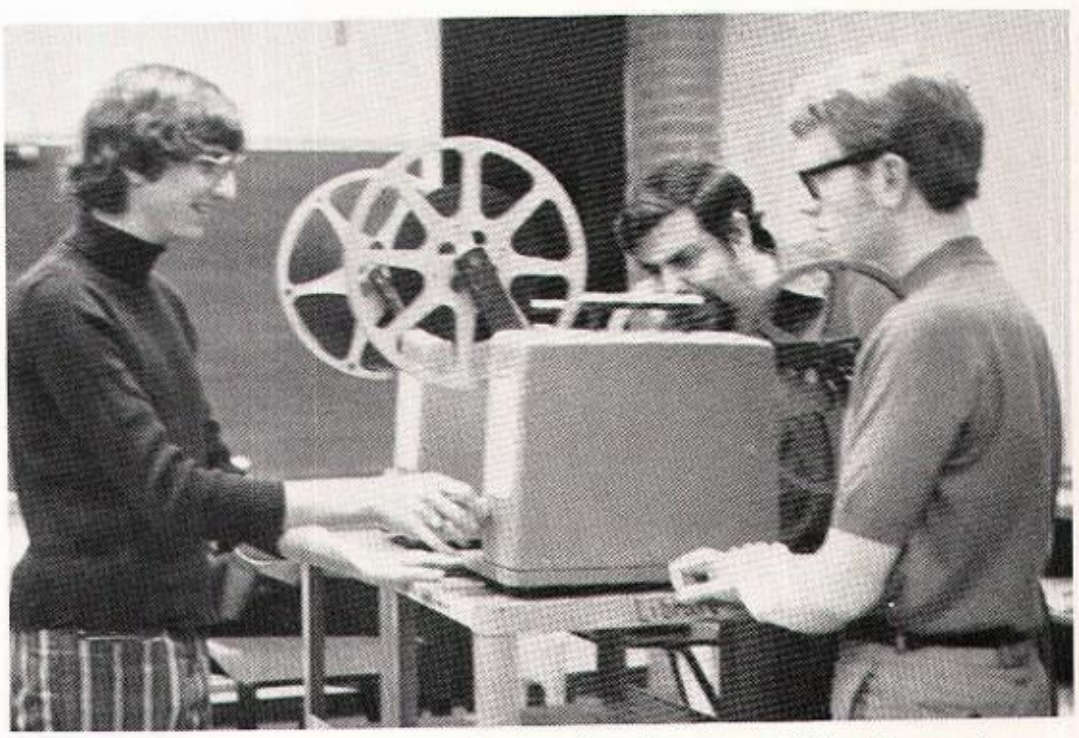
Thespians

The International Thespian Society is a dramatic fraternity of high school students dedicated to furthering and developing interest and participation in theatre activities. Thespians become members by accumulating at least ten points that may be gained by acting, backstage work, writing, directing, or the business end of production. With each production new members become eligible to join the troupe. The Thespians' project this year was the sponsorship of four classic films: "Citizen Kane," "The Raven," "Fail-Safe," and "Phantom of the Opera."



Mr. Stewart prepares projector for showing of "The Raven."

Dear Park Hill:

I would like to take this time to give my thanks to you—the administration and my fellow students—for this wonderful year full of experiences. Coming to your school is one memory that will be with me forever. Here I have learned to know one country—one great country, and have grown to love it.

Now that the moment of my good-bye is near I can only say from the bottom of my heart thanks to Park Hill and good luck.

The Park Hill Marching Band triumphs again. On October 16, 1971 the band traveled to Fayette, Missouri anticipating a victory over 25 bands entered in the contest. After 28 weeks of hard work in precision marching on the field and in the street the band proved that the win was well deserved. The competition was tough but the band's performance was a beautiful sight to behold. Even the judges complimented the band on its great showmanship. This made the third consecutive win for Park Hill and enabled the band to bring home a magnificent trophy and plaque.

Park Hill Pep Club

The pep club is an important part of Trojan sports. Promoting school spirit is the main objective. To achieve this, a delegation of pep club girls attend both home and away sport events. They have a money making project to sponsor dances and various school activities.

"Hey, all you Trojan fans, stand up and clap your hands."

CHEERLEADERS

The Varsity, Junior Varsity, and Winter Sports cheerleading squads are made up of school-spirited girls willing to devote their time to the support of all sports. In addition to cheering at athletic events they perform at pep assemblies and sponsor extra activities to boost the team's confidence. All three squads had very high ratings at the summer cheerleading clinic, and brought back a spirit stick and the spark plug award.

Rain doesn't dampen their spirits.

POM PON GIRLS

Park Hill's sixteen Pom Pon girls were quite successful this year in performances during the football and basketball seasons. Their original routines ranged from novelties, such as a Cowboy and Charleston routine, to more modern and peppy dances. They came out winners at the 1971 summer clinic, having been awarded the Spirit award, and various ribbons.

Gymnastics Club

The gymnastic club has enjoyed a banner year in 1971-1972. Over forty high school students have participated and enjoyed such things as a performance at a basketball game and a trip to Lawrence, Kansas to take part in a clinic and watch a university gymnastics meet. Each member has been allowed to develop physical skills that meet his particular interest and also to gain in knowledge from the various activities.

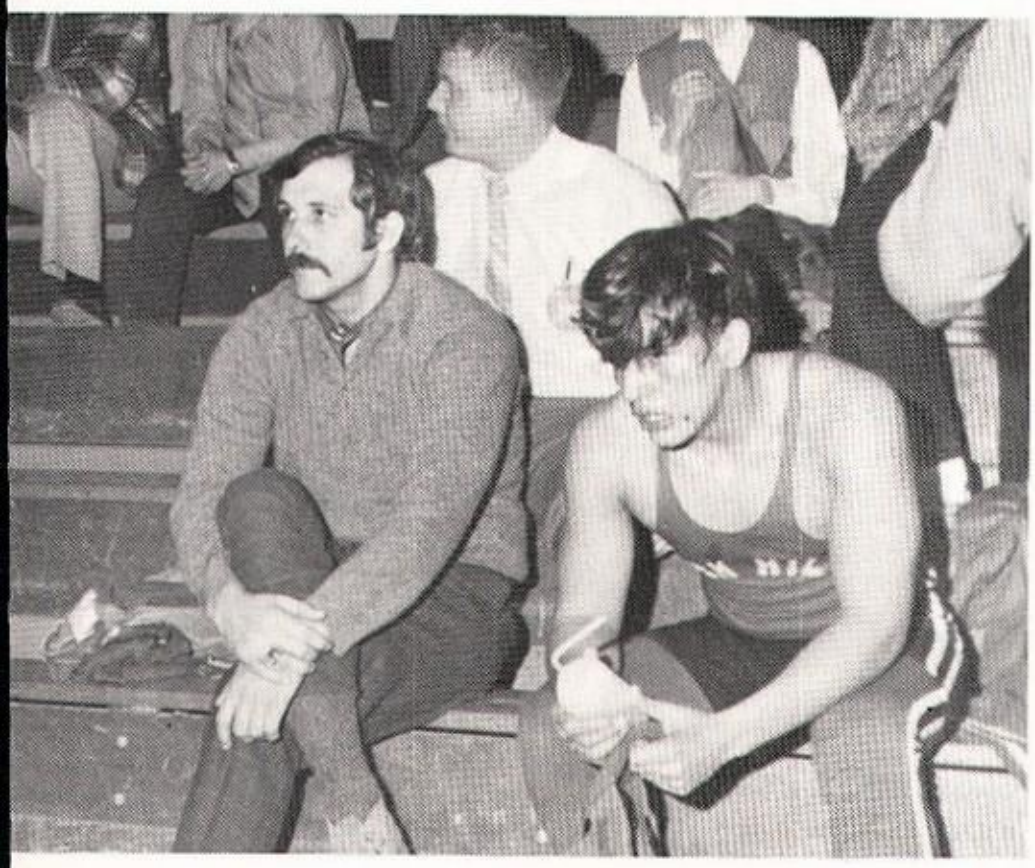
Lettermen



Head coach Richard Oberbeck in his second year as varsity wrestling instructor showed he could produce a winner. As a team, Park Hill finished with a winning record and never below fourth in a tournament. Five members of the team went on to regionals. This typified the team, nobody was a really outstanding wrestler or a tempo setter, but rather everybody doing his share with the end result; a second place finish in the conference tournament, coming after a hard year's work. At left is coach Oberbeck and his 185 pound wrestler Larry Werthmueller.

Wrestlers

Wrestlers are athletes with great pride and with this pride comes a winner. Come a small let down and they become losers.

Wrestlers are individualists. Acknowledgement comes only to those who take the pain, the sweat, and the hard work in stride and continually push themselves to the limit.

They are men with courage. For only if they can come back from adversity and go beyond the requirements for excellence, can they be a wrestler.

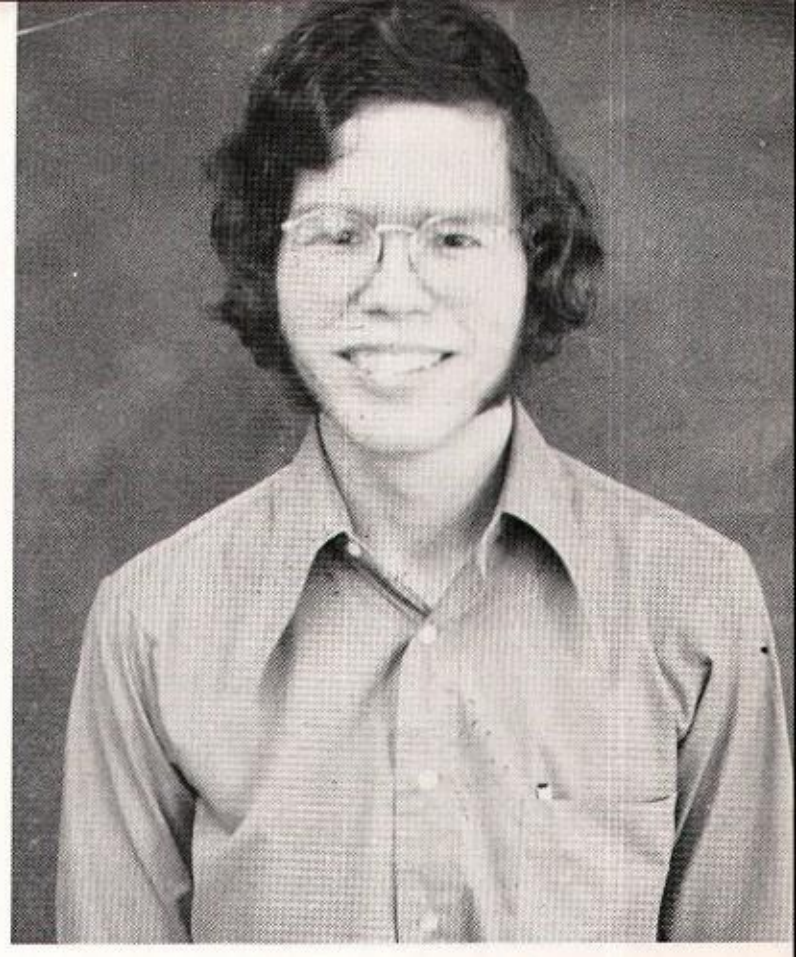
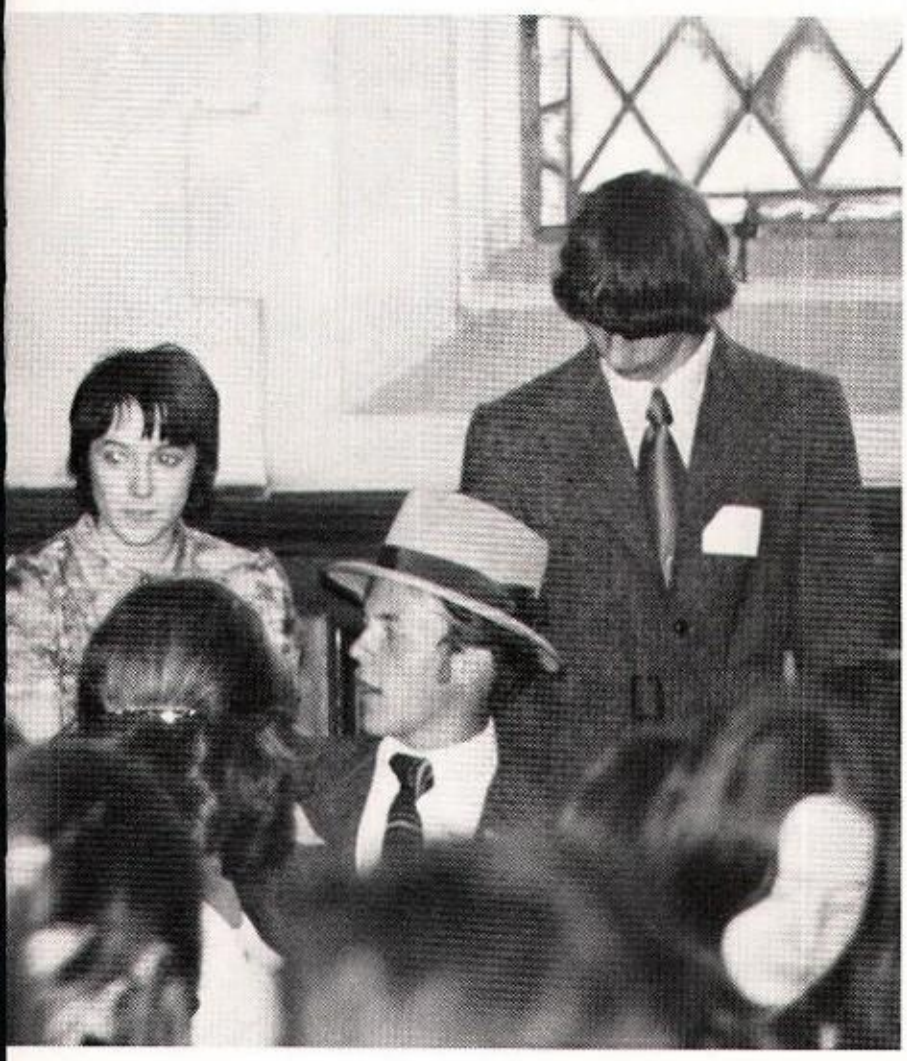
Jay Kimball was awarded the first semester honor award for scholarship. His high grade average and his desire for learning combined for the attainment of this honor.

Colleen Burgeson was awarded the first semester honor award for leadership. She has shown outstanding leadership in the areas of student council and class projects.

Jay Kimball was presented the leadership award for second semester. His ability as Stuco president made him the best recipient for this award. The second semester scholarship award was given to Jeff Sheffield. Jeff was the No. 1 student in the class of '72.





This year Park Hill sent several students to the United Nations Security Council held at Park College. Acting as representatives of the Soviet Union and led by Jay Kimball, Park Hill dominated the proceedings throughout the day.
